CITY WILL FIGHT FOR WATER SUPPLY

Council Authorizes Employment of Special Counsel to Assist Judge Hiles.

CLAIM INJUNCTION IS WITHOUT ANY MERIT

Engineer Kelsey Explains to Councilmen Legal Status of Water Rights.

The City Council held a special session vesterday afternoon to discuss the injunction sait brought by the Progress company to enjoin the diversion of water through the new Big Cottonwood conduit. The upshot of the discussion was that Mayor Thompson, City Attorney Hiles and the Waterworks committee of the Council were author-committee of the Council were authorized to employ special counsel to assist the city. The hearing on the temporary restraining order will come up Tuesday before Judge Morse in the District court, and the special counsel will be engaged before then, if at all. Councilman Martin E. Mulvey at first introduced a resolution authorizing City Attorney Hiles to employ Franklin S. Richards as special counsel for the city and to fix his compensation. Mr. Richards was employed by the Morris administration in the preliminary legal work connected with the couduit, and, it is claimed, is very familiar with the legality and illegality of all the water rights in the canyon. After some discussion, however, it was decided to refer the matter of special counsel to the officials and the comcounsel to the officials and the com-

At the request of the Council, City Engineer L. C. Kelsey explained the legal status of the Progress company's claim. He pointed out that the city had purchased the Knudson-Bagley right, and that the three rights claimed the Progress company are both ove and below the Knudson-Bagley ht. Mr. Kelsey said that the city right. At. Reisey said that the City find not concede that the Progress com-pany were entitled to any rights on Big Cottonwood creek at all. Their rights, if they have any rights, were on Spring Creek, a tributary of Big Cottonwood,

In this connection Mr. Kelsey pointed out that in 1902 the Progress company had offered to sell all of its rights to the city. In that offer, he declared, nothing had been mentioned about rights on Big Cottonwood creek, but only on Spring creek. This offer, he basected, was on file in the archives of the city.

The Progress company, Mr. Kelsey said, had ostensibly succeeded to rights appropriated in 1856. These rights, he said, were used so long as the old Hanguer smelter was in operation, but had been abandoned for several years thereafter. He expressed doubt as to whether they had been taken up again within the seven years allowed by law. within the seven years allowed by law. He asserted, moreover, that the company made a subsequent filing for irrigation purposes, which, be declared, was not sufficient. Councilman Fernstrom also pointed out that the city, under the Morris administration, had made a filing on the waters of the creek prior to the time that the Pro-gress company started to biuld its pow-

During the debate on the matter
Councilman C. J. Crabtree declared toutcilman C. J. Crabtree declared that, in his judgment, the case should be transferred from Judge Morse's court to some other district judge, and, while no action was taken on this suggestion, there is considerable feeling among officials against Judge Morse's attitude in the matter.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE FULLY ORGANIZED

Harmonious Proceedings and a Full Set of Officers Elected on Saturday.

The Municipal League finished its work on Saturday forenoon. This was the first municipal convention held in Seventeen of the principal cities in Utah outside of Salt Lake responded to the call of Mayor E. W. Robinson to meet and form a State municipal league. The convention opened Friday afternoon, at which time the necessary committees were ap pointed to form a permanent organiza tion, and draft a constitution.

At the afternoon session, on Satur day, the reports and recommendations of the committees were adopted, and the convention was placed upon a per-manent foundation. All the mayors of the cities in the State, who participated in the proceedings, expressed them-selves as highly pleased with the work of the convention. The plan of the league contemplates the betterment of municipal conditions and government throughout State.

throughout State.

At the closing session Saturday morning, State Engineer Calch Tanner, delivered an interesting, and to Salt Lake, a most gratifying address on 'Water Supplies of the State.' It was not only interesting, but to the convention, profitable. In the course of his remarks, he said that but one city in the State could figure out deficonvention, profitable. In the course of his remarks, he said that but one city in the State could figure out definitely the amount of water it can handle and when it could get an increase in its supply. Salt Lake is the only city in the State that can do this. A short time ago, he said, he had a request from the government as to the supplies of water of the cities of this State, and Salt Lake alone of all the cities in Utah could furnish the necessary information on this subject. The State Engineer, in his address, spoke very highly of the business methods in vogue in Salt Lake City, in securing its great water supply and in handling it along scientific business lines.

The address was an eye opener to many of those present, and some of them naturally concluded that if all the departments in the city are as well governed as the water department, that Salt Lake certainly was in no great need of a radical change in its municipal government.

F. Bower, of Springville, delivered an excellent and well considered address on "Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities," which was the sub-

Public Utilities, which was the sub-ject of an interesting discussion, which was participated in by Mayor Chris-tinnsen of Bingham and others. The league favored a juvenile court, and adopted a resolution recommending that the Legislature enact a measure, in its judgment would be most condu-cive to the welfare of children, who, by misfortune or otherwise required by misfortune or otherwise, required court discipline. By the terms of the constitution, upon payment of an initiation fee of 50 cents, all officers of any city, organized town or village in Utah may become members.

ROYAL D. AMY DEAD

A Close Friend of Count Creighton-Father of Mrs. Husbands.

The death of Royal D. Amy at Council Bluffs, last Friday week, brought to a close a busy and useful life, marked the passing of a pioneer of the plains, and was part of a coincidence, for Mr. Amy died but a day after his life-long friend, Count John A. Creighton, with whom he was asso-ciated in business since 1847, besides being the closest possible friend of the dead count.

Mr. Amy, who died at 73 years of age, was both in Concordia, Ohio. He and Count Creighton together came West in 1847, Mr. Amy settling at Council Bluffs, while the Count located in Omaha. Together the two men made several trips across the plains, Count Creighton laying by means of these freighting ventures, the foundation of his large fortune.

Mr. Amy was a resident of Council

Mr. Amy was a resident of Council Bluffs for sixty years, watching the city grow from a modest little place to a thriving city. He was a prominent factor in its development, and, in the early days, was chief of the volunteer for the state of the state unteer fire department. He was en gaged in the wholesale and retail hard ware business, and was active until the breakdown in his health seven months ago.

The curious coincidence of the death of the two old friends, Count Creighton and Mr. Amy, is considered a re markable one by the many friends of the two men, who recall their intimate the two men, who recall their latinates and close companionship throughout a half century. ENGINEER MAKES FINE SHOWING

Louis C. Kelsey Presents His First Annual Report to Mayor Thompson.

SHOWS GREAT SAVING OVER PRECEDING YEAR

Did Nearly Double the Work of His Predecessor, at a Less Cost.

The annual report of City Engineer Louis C. Kelsey for 1906, which was filed with Mayor Ezra Thompson yesterday, furnishes another example of the economical and efficient methods of transacting city business which have been introduced and followed by American party officials. This is shown strikingly in the report on the work done by the office during the year and the cost thereof, as compared with similar figures for the Morris administration for the preceding year.

The cost of operating Mr. Kelsey's office for the year was $65,030.91, as compared with $65,943.64 for the preceding year, a saving by Mr. Kelsey of $912.73. The work done in the auto was about fifty yards from me. I stepped out into the road and motioned for the driver to stop. He said: "Oh, rot; damn the sign," then turned on his power again. This man, I am informed, is Bert Fuller. I pulled out my revolver and forced him to stop. He said: "Well, I had better out." State Dairy and Food Comp sioner Peterson Makes Investigation.

THE ONE HE SUSPECTS BEATS HIM WITH BLUFF

Chemist Harms Has Can Peas That Looks Like Herbarium.

John Peterson, the State Dairy as Food Commissioner, is again in a son plight. This time it is not, hower on account of any flaw in the state but rather because with a bold free the guilty party refuses to appropriate that be.

some time ago an exceedingly a let of tomatoes was discovered in a city. They were not only had themselves, but the circumstances as such that Mr. Frazier, the City Fo and Provision Inspector, thought they had been misbranded. In fait was subsequently learned that number of labels which had be printed for a Denver firm had dispeared, and the firm announced that had not made use of the brand hyears. Moreover, these labels comsponded with those found on the cans which were recently conficeated this city. It was known to whom it shipment of objectionable goods there consigned in Salt Lake, and dubless this party could have been se suaded to divulge the name of the ma or firm from which he received it goods. time ago an exceedingly Peterson Takes It Up.

As this was clearly a case within a jurisdiction, Mr. Peterson took the mater in hand. It, of course, resums some time to get ready for action, a nothing was done until last Fidus although the goods were conficute about three weeks ago. After his a turn from a visit to the manager of Utah canning company, which firm, seems, he mistrusted, Mr. Peterson sayesterday that the gentleman was we to-do, had considerable influence the community in which he lives at this gentleman said he had sature to do with the shipment of chief to make goods. Moreover, to show the was sincere he offered to part that he sold the tomatoes, in the fact of all this convincing evidence. He Peterson did not think it advisable to proceed further, for the present, a least. When he was teld that it migh be possible to secure some interesting information from the gracer to what the goods had been consigned, and was suggested that this man be see at once—his establishment was on about a block from where the coare sation was being held—the Commissioner recalled that he had busen elsewhere, and could not accompany the other members of the party. That is where the matter rests at present, a just what disposition will be made of it can not be predicted.

A Can of Peas. Peterson Takes It Up.

A Can of Peas. In Chemist Harms's laboratory is can of peas which brings up a st bearing on the food situation that expose the methods of some of the cxpose the methods of some of the scrupulous business men in getting of inferior goods. This can wast of a shipment which was sent some of the local dealers about 4 3 of last year. The goods were up by a Utah canning company in a pliance with an order from a tana merchant who wanted to ma fun on peas and undersell his coat tors. For some reason he refined accept them, and they were sent to Lake.

The cans bore no labels, and

The cans bore no labels, and markings on the ends of the cases been obliterated. The fact that been obliterated. The fact that is goods were not labeled offered to disculty, however, for the labels were so plied after the goods arrived. It label on the can is flagrantly ficilities so much so that it is to be wondered at that the goods found a matter that the goods found a matter that the goods found a matter black to be an excellent beginning a museum. It contains peas of a sizes, some of them decayed so at form a jelly. About half of that have not decayed are beginning a sprout, and the inside of the cut black with corrosion. It is said the some of the cans contained bits of a falfa and cinders.

The Milk is Good.

The Milk Is Good. Last Friday Chemist Harms made analysis of twenty-four samples milk taken from several of the dist in the east part of the city. Eve sample passed the test, and Mr. Har asserts that they were clean and fi from dirt and sediment. He says if the milk which is now being sold generally more sanitary than ever
